Washington Society Turns Attention to Spring Brides

Wedding of Miss Frances Carpenter to William C. Huntington Will Be First to Follow Easter; Miss Nancy Lane Is to Become Bride April 20

Special Dispatch to The Tribune
WASHINGTON, March 20.—Enter the spring bride. The first of the Washington spring weddings will not take place until after Easter, for there is a decided prejudice against wedding in Lent, but the brides are now buying themselves the revolvers of the season, and already parties in their honor are in order.

Miss Frances Carpenter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank G. Carpenter, will be the first Washington society girl to wed this spring. Her marriage to William C. Huntington is set for Tuesday, April 6. Other important weddings in the social calendar are those of Miss Nancy Lane, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin K. Lane, to Philip C. Kauffmann, and of Miss Elizabeth Lee Grinnell, to Lieutenant Commander Henry Livermore Abbott, U. S. N.

Miss Carpenter will have a home wedding, as her mother's health is frail. It will take place at 4:30 o'clock at the Carpenter residence, in Connecticut Avenue, with only a few friends and a small company of old friends present, but additional guests have been invited to the reception which is to follow. Mr. Huntington recently was a native of the Middle West, but on the completion of a short wedding trip he and his bride will sail for France.

During the winter Mr. Huntington was on duty at the Department of Commerce in Washington—the commercial attaché under the Commerce Department rather than the State Department—and during this time he met, wooed and won his bride-to-be. Before that he was attached to the American Embassy in Russia, his service covering the revolutionary period. At that time he not only had many interesting experiences, but made an exceptional record. Mr. Huntington is a native of the Middle West, but his family now lives in Elizabeth, N. J.

Miss Carpenter is an exceedingly versatile young woman. She has been her father's secretary and assistant in his highly successful journalistic work. She is a member of the Junior League and has been active in most of its philanthropic activities. Recently she spent six months abroad working for the Y. M. C. A.

Miss Lane Popular in Washington
The wedding in which society in Washington is perhaps most generally interested is that of Miss Lane and Mr. Kauffmann, which is set for April 20 and will be solemnized in St. John's Church. Miss Lane was a Cabinet bride, making her debut during the season just past, and narrowly missed being a Cabinet bride, her father's resignation from the post of Secretary of the Interior taking place some six weeks before the date selected for her wedding.

Lakewood Is to Become Regular Summer Resorts

Laurel in the Pines Is the First Large Hotel to Decide to Take Plunge and Keep Its Doors Open for Sojourners All the Year Round

Special Dispatch to The Tribune
LAKEWOOD, March 20.—The dream that resort interests here have had for years is about to be realized. The fulfillment of their hopes was accomplished this week when the Laurel in the Pines announced that the hotel will remain open all summer, which means that Lakewood bids fair to take its place among summer resorts as well as holding a leading place among winter resorts.

To the end of making this place a popular summer resort interests here have directed their attention for several seasons. Many of the residents, however, kept their cottages open until the middle of July, while others, including Georgetown, the estate of Mr. and Mrs. George J. Gould, have kept open all summer. Several of the smaller hotels during the last four years have kept open during the summer months and had unusual success. However, none of the larger hotel interests was willing to take the "plunge." After much observation Frank F. Shute, who has been for many years manager of the Laurel in the Pines, determined to take the matter "by the horns" and has announced that his hotel will be run on "the whole year 'round" basis. A score or more of the hotel's regular patrons have signified their intention of remaining here for the summer and this number will be greatly augmented by others as soon as they learn of the radical change which has been made.

To those who are familiar with Lakewood the change will be no surprise, as it has been felt for some time that ultimately the advantages of this place as a summer resort would be recognized and utilized. With the Atlantic Ocean only ten miles away, within five miles of navigable streams that lead into Barnegat Bay, one of the best fishing grounds in the country; connected by excellent motor roads with New York, Philadelphia and other large Eastern cities, there seems to be no reason why this place should not grow to be a popular summer resort. Beautiful shade trees, surrounding forests of pine and oak, together with one of the finest natural lakes, some two miles long, gives a pretty setting and provides adequate protection from the sun's rays. As a matter of fact, the average summer temperature here is about the same as that of the seashore resorts, ten miles away. The ground is cleared of snow and the debris of winter completely cleaned up by a warm sun and gentle winds, golfing at the country club is again possible. Golf fans, for the first time in weeks, enjoyed the sport this week.

Deputy Police Commissioner Mrs. Ellen O'Grady and daughter, Miss Helen, of New York, were here for the St. Patrick's Day celebration at the Florence in the Pines.

Cornelius Vanderbilt Jr. is at the Laurel in the Pines for a week's sojourn.

During the week Mrs. Charles Lathrop Pack gave a dinner at her residence, Lathrop Hall, for Mrs. Robert Minot, of Boston, and Miss Clara West. Among the guests were Miss Florence Godfrey, Miss Sara Compton, Mrs. Henry Oliver Walker, Miss Eleanor Ferris, Miss Agnes Helen Davis and others.

Miss Julia Capen, of the National Board of the Y. W. C. A. Mrs. Robert Minot, of Boston, and Miss Clara West. Among the guests were Miss Florence Godfrey, Miss Sara Compton, Mrs. Henry Oliver Walker, Miss Eleanor Ferris, Miss Agnes Helen Davis and others.

Special Dispatch to The Tribune
ORLANDO, Fla., March 20.—Tourists in Orlando are interested in a movement which has for its object the completion of the 18-hole golf course of the Orlando Country Club, which will make this course one of the finest in use here. Special Dispatch to The Tribune
TAMPA, Fla., March 20.—The Tampa Day meeting of tourists at the Tampa Bay Casino perhaps was the most interesting gathering of the Tampa Tourists' Club during the season. There has been no noticeable lessening of the numbers attending the weekly meetings and no diminishing interest.

Motor Boats Break 8 World's Records At Miami Regatta

Great Success Achieved at Annual Races Lends Impetus to Sport, and Many Plan to Enter Next Year

Special Dispatch to The Tribune
MIAMI, Fla., March 20.—Interest in motor boating reached a high point here this month. The annual Biscayne Bay regatta, at which eight world's records were lowered by swift cruisers, has lent impetus to this sport, and dozens of Northern power boat devotees are now planning to bring their craft South next season. At the close of the regatta many sportsmen urged an extension of the racing program. Carl G. Fisher and the regatta committee arranged three long distance races to Bimini Key and return, to Palm Beach and return, and to Key West. These events were followed this week by races of ten and twenty miles in the bay. Carl G. Fisher donated a silver trophy to the winner of these contests.

The world's records established at the annual motor boat regatta were as follows: In the ten-mile open displacement race for boats averaging a speed of better than twenty-five miles an hour, the winner was Miss Nassau, flying the colors of C. B. Johnson, of Cleveland. Her time was 15 minutes and 45 seconds, averaging a speed of 38 1-10 miles an hour.

In the twenty-mile race for express cruisers better than twenty-five miles an hour, the Gar Jr., owned by Arthur Wood, the theatrical promoter, won with 37 minutes and 35 seconds, averaging 31.95 miles an hour and setting a world's record for light speed cruisers. Running a hair's breadth behind her was the crack yacht Hoosier V, belonging to Herbert R. Duckwall, of Indianapolis, which set a world's record for heavy express cruisers for this distance.

The Gar Jr. also set a world's record in the two-mile light speed cruiser time trial, which she accomplished in 2 minutes and 29 seconds, her rate of speed being 34.45 miles an hour.

The Miss Nassau established a world's record and the following day lowered it by one second, when she covered two miles in 2 minutes and 47 seconds, averaging 43 1-10 miles an hour.

In the one-mile time trials the Miss Nassau, Hoosier V and Gar Jr. set world's records in their respective classes. In summing up, the Miss Nassau and Gar Jr. smashed three world's records apiece, while the Hoosier V lowered two.

The enthusiasts were entertained last week with an exhibition match played between a crack Cuban army team and a team representing the Miami Beach Polo Club.

Large galleries have been viewing tennis matches lately at Miami Beach. Some of the country's leading exponents of the game have appeared. Among these were Ichiya Kumagae, winner of the Palm Beach tournament, and his partner, Seichiro Kashio, who fell before the playing of John Hennessey, Indiana champion, and George Granger, instructor of the West Side Tennis Club, New York.
